

It Takes a REALTOR®

National Homeownership Month June 2006

Technology Tools

Here are just a few valuable tools NAR provides to help you promote homeownership, encourage community involvement and show the strength we have in our membership.

For more tools and information, visit www.REALTOR.org

NAR's official member Web site contains critical industry-related news and information. Sign up for weekly e-newsletters, customized by the topics of your choice. www.REALTOR.org

NAR's Center for REALTOR® Technology was established to provide technology leadership, guidance and assistance for its members. CRT makes available informed industry insight, research and open-source applications through its mission of implementation, advocacy and information. www.REALTOR.org/CRT

Develop your computer and Internet skills for success in today's demanding high-tech marketplace. e-PRO® is the only Internet Professional certification program of its kind recognized nationwide and offered by NAR. Join the more than 30,000 professionals who have already registered for this program. Continuing education credit is available in many states. www.eProNAR.com

REALTOR.com® brings REALTORS® and consumers together everywhere, every day. Nearly 7 million unique consumer visits each month make it the most popular real estate site in the world. Best of all, as a member, your listings get posted for free! www.MySiteREALTOR.com

Through the REALTORS® Commercial Alliance, commercial practitioners can obtain specialty area service, educational opportunities, industry research and periodic publications. Attend Commercial Source.com—the only online convention for commercial real estate professionals. Attend seminars, hear speakers, network with colleagues and visit virtual exhibitor booths. Registration is now open for the June 6-12 event. www.commercialsources.com

REALTOR® Secure is NAR's information security awareness, education and certification program. REALTOR® Secure uses industry's best practices to address the confidentiality, integrity and availability of real estate and consumer information. It is designed to protect you, your business and your customers from internal and external threats and to prevent business interruptions. www.REALTOR.org/Secure

Real estate professionals continually need to improve skills, whether to fulfill continuing education requirements, for personal development or to earn a designation or certification. Save time and money by taking courses online on your own schedule at REALTOR® University. Check out over 100 hours of online education, some which may be applied to continuing education credits. www.REALTOR.org/RealtorUniversity
