

ONLINE SAFETY COURSE

SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION

NAR's Online Safety Course

Safety Is a Matter of Course

As you use the materials provided by NAR for REALTOR® Safety Week, keep in mind that you, your agents or members can continue your safety training any time, anywhere—with a complete, interactive online REALTOR® safety course, available through REALTOR® University. Visit www.learninglibrary.com/realtoruniversity to learn more.

The cutting-edge 3-hour course teaches REALTORS® the tenets of staying safe on the job, at home and in the car. And the course is Internet-based, which means you can take it anywhere you have a computer and Internet connection.

The interactive learning environment will hold your interest as it takes you through several realistic settings where you search for hidden safety tips as well as stumble upon potential dangers lurking! An online quiz after each section tests your knowledge of actions you can take before and during your work to ensure that you stay safe.

The course is $49, or it's available as a bulk course for Associations or brokers. Help spread the safety message by purchasing course passes for your entire office and save!

A note on CE credit

NAR is seeking approval in a number of states for continuing education (CE) credit. Talk to your state licensing board about getting certification approval for the online REALTOR® safety course!

About REALTOR® University

REALTOR® University is NAR's online education delivery system that offers Internet-based courses leading to official NAR designations and certifications. For information about discounts for bulk purchases for Associations or brokers or about continuing education credit, contact Colleen Ryan at cryan@realtors.org.

For more information or to take the course, visit REALTOR.org/Safety

INTRODUCTION HANDOUT

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION
OF REALTORS®

The Voice for Real Estate®

Real Strength.
Real Advantages.